How to Operationalize AntiRacism in Health
Prenatal to 3
Joia Crear-Perry, MD, FACOG
Objectives

• Define Human Rights, Racism, Anti Racism
• Explain Anti-Racist Culture and Praxis in Medicine
• Overview of NBEC’s Birth Equity Training
• NBEC’s Cycle to Respectful Care
• Call to Action
Mission
NBEC creates solutions that optimize Black maternal and infant health through training, policy advocacy, research and community centered collaboration.

Vision
All Black mothers and babies thrive.

Core Values:
Leadership, Freedom, Wellness,
Black Lives, Sisterhood
Indicator

Indicator is a datapoint

- Measurement limited by current reality
- A product of our past understanding of public health and science
- Systems are more apt to adhere to specific prescribed indicators than to determine alternatives

Framework

A framework is a vision

- Expands understanding of current reality
- Allows freedom to explore language of indicators
- Exploration of alternatives to traditional data collection & application
- Questions historical construction health systems
Article 2.

Everyone is entitled to all the rights and freedoms set forth in this Declaration, without distinction of any kind, such as race, color, sex, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other status.

Article 3.

Everyone has the right to life, liberty and security of person

Article 25.

(1) Everyone has the right to a standard of living adequate for the health and well-being of himself and of his family, including food, clothing, housing and medical care and necessary social services

(2) Motherhood and childhood are entitled to special care and assistance. All children, whether born in or out of wedlock, shall enjoy the same protection.
White Supremacy

A historically based, institutionally perpetuated system of exploitation and oppression of continents, nations, and peoples of color by white peoples and nations of the European continent, for the purpose of maintaining and defending a system of wealth, power, and privilege.
“One either believes problems are rooted in groups of people, as a racist, or locates the roots of problems in power and policies, as an anti-racist.”

Ibram X Kendi, How to Be an Antiracist (2019)
AntiRacist

- "To be antiracist is to think nothing is behaviorally wrong or right -- inferior or superior -- with any of the racial groups. Whenever the antiracist sees individuals behaving positively or negatively, the antiracist sees exactly that: individuals behaving positively or negatively, not representatives of whole races. To be antiracist is to deracialize behavior, to remove the tattooed stereotype from every racialized body. Behavior is something humans do, not races do."
Moving Towards Anti-Racist Praxis in Medicine
ANTI-RACIST APPROACHES TO MEDICINE (Examples)

- Recognition of racism, not race, as a root cause or driver of health inequities
- Anti-Racist pre-medical, medical and continuing medical education and training
- Diversification of the healthcare workforce
- Medical innovations designed by diverse engineers, scientists, advocates and providers as well as testing algorithms among different patient populations
- Advocating for patients unjustly impacted by health inequities
- Universal single-payer healthcare
- Establishment of systems that collect & disaggregate health outcome data by race and ethnicity as well as how racism may be operating in clinical settings
- Performance standards related to structural racism and equity for healthcare systems
Birth Equity Training

Length
1-2 hours

Objectives
- Increase value for Black families and birthing people
- Identify shared language and tools for birth equity
- Practice tools to apply towards birth equity

Topics
- Define terminology around racism and inequity
- Identity and perspective
- Roots of inequity and perinatal health inequities
- Physiological effects of racism and bias
- History of racism on Black people, health, and reproductive rights
- Policy
- Solutions, tools, and resources to combat racism and bias.
Respectful Maternity Care Training

- Based on information provided by Black women across the nation.
- Defines respectful care.
- Incorporates more skills based and adapted to community input on respectful care.
- Includes similar information in the Birth Equity training.
You released a statement denouncing racism and affirming 'Black Lives Matter.' Now what?

1. Acknowledge how racism, specifically anti-Black racism and white supremacy culture, operates within your organization (No one is exempt)

2. Establish accountability mechanisms

3. Invest in anti-racism and divest from racist and white supremacy culture practices

4. Transform the composition of your board of directors and senior staff

5. Do your homework. Then do some more.

J. Crear-Perry, L.T. Lewis, A. J. Gunn
Fierce Healthcare, Jun 26, 2020
Thank you

Founder President

drjoia@birthequity.org

@birthequity